

Hardwood Miniatures

-Hunter

Now you can create your own personal and collectible masterpiece of miniature wood art. All you will need is the desire to create and a little of your time to make a unique and enduring memento of your voyage.

HUNTER, a renowned craftsman will provide everything else that you will need, including expert instruction and assistance. To complete your own miniature masterpiece you will use a kit assembled with Hunter's selection of exotic hardwood components. Each piece has been painstakingly crafted by the artist for your project. No tools, supplies, or experience required. Yet when you are finished with your project, you will have a unique and collectible miniature naturescape in exotic woods. Keep it as your enduring memento, a testimony to your artistic talents or bring it home as a cherished gift for a special someone. A padded gift box will be provided for every completed project. Your completed naturescape will take up less space than a candy bar, so it will travel easily, gift-boxed and tucked away in a spare corner of your luggage, until you get home.

Hunter enjoys a unique niche in the world of miniatures and wood art forms. The demand for his carefully crafted pieces, worldwide, attests to the artistic and collectible aspects of his work. His is truly a "singular craft", since his work is unmatched anywhere.

"The Scroll Saw Magic" used throughout Hunter's work has taken him more than 25 years to perfect. Originally from the mother lode district of historic California, Hunter now resides in Yuma, Arizona, with his wife Pat.
